WALKER AND WHITE TO BATTLE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

A bill to curb the business carried on by small loan companies and put to rest the squabbling of their victims by the state legislature, has been introduced by Representative James F. Ryan, of the town of Braintree, and backing of the legislature.

In yesterday's session AMERICA published an amazing exposure of the unscrupulous practices of the small loan companies, which have been the cause of the financial ruin of many of the people of the state. The exposure was a masterpiece of the pen, and it is believed that it will result in the passage of a law to protect the people from the depredations of these companies.

H. W. BURR, FIRST TO GET PAPERS UNDER NEW PRIMARY LAW

Mr. Burr, a Dorchester resident, is a candidate for State Auditor under the new primary nomination law.

Representative Norman H. White and Speaker Joseph Walker of Brookline today took out gubernatorial papers under the new primary nomination law. This is their official announcement that they will go into the primaries as candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor of Massachusetts, Governor of Brookline.

The new direct nomination law for State officers went into operation today. The first step under the new law was drawing nomination papers by candidates or their representatives.

The papers are to be signed by voters and in this way candidates can get their names upon the ballots at primaries of all parties. Candidates will then be nominated by the people and not by delegates to conventions. The men nominated at the primaries will be voted upon at the State election in November next.

Many representatives who are seeking another term took out papers for themselves. The new direct nomination law for State officers went into operation today. The first step under the new law was drawing nomination papers by candidates or their representatives.

FINO LOST GIRL DEAD IN RIVER

NEWBURYPORT, June 26. By the discovery in the Merrimack River near here today of the body of Miss Lou Farrington, the mystery of the girl's disappearance on Sunday morning, which has been causing the greatest excitement in this and surrounding towns was solved. It is believed the girl committed suicide.

The girl was seen by her mother at 2:30 Sunday morning to slip on a railroad over her nightdress and leave the house. Mrs. Farrington at that time felt no alarm. Later in the morning when no trace of the girl was found about the house, the neighborhood was aroused and searching parties organized to seek the woods. No clue was discovered of the missing girl, and today the search was discontinued, in the belief that she had in a fit of insanity thrown herself into the river.

About a week ago Miss Farrington was obliged to leave a sister friend in Haverhill where she was employed, on account of ill health. This, according to the girl's mother, had been getting on her mind. She had remarked to her mother several times that she might as well be dead as alive.

Miss Farrington was thirty-two years of age. She was of medium height, light complexioned and had gray eyes. She was considered very attractive and was well liked.

Both Boston and Philadelphia teams play today. The Red Sox and Athletics at the Huntington Avenue Grounds and the Phillies and Athletics at Philadelphia. The Phillies have not seen as fortunate in their series as the Red Sox players, but they are going after them with a determination to win.

ELEVATED CONTINUES LEASE FIGHT IN HOPE OF BETTER COMPROMISE

Boston Elevated officials and the West End stockholders committee are preparing to-day for their last struggle to push through the Senate the fifty-year lease plan and the $100,000,000 dividend for the West End when the Boston Elevated takes over the line. Even in the face of the almost unanimous opposition of the trustees, the Mayor, leading bankers and middle-class citizens, it is believed today that an attempt will be made on the floor of the Senate to move over to the "old guard" that look after "special interests" and push the bill through. The bill, which will be passed, but that their fighting strength will be greatly weakened by a vote of 100 to 100. This Is Picture No. 9

Anyone living in New England, able to think, will do well to "get aboard" the great Proverb Contest wagon. You may start any time—the sooner the better!

This is expected to be a banner week in the AMERICAN'S $10,000 Proverb Contest. Interest in the contest, which is now in its third year, is at a high tide. In yesterday's Sunday AMERICAN all of the best pictures which have been printed were again provided for the benefit of any who might have missed one or more pictures, so that anyone was able to begin today's work with all of the pictures to date to start with.

No more back picture will be reproduced in the columns of the AMERICAN. Any one who is interested in the contest for these great prizes will find one picture each day in the AMERICAN.

For the convenience of contestants, the AMERICAN has made preparations for the distribution of numbers of the puzzle pictures to those who wish them.

These back numbers will include the answer blank. Then, if you are in need of any back numbers you can send to the "Proverb Contest Editor" for the puzzle picture, and he will send it to you.

Why Are You
Getting Bald?

You don't have to. Lorrimer's Hair Tonic is Nature's remedy for baldness. It kills the dandruff germ—stops the hair falling at once. It's cheap, too.

N. E. ATHLETES AT PITTSBURGH

The New England Association of Intercollegiate Athletics will be represented at the national track and field championships in New York City on Friday and Saturday, by an unusually strong and well-balanced team of athletes who are expected to capture a few of the titles.

Most of the New Englanders will compete in the indoor events on Friday. Several of the top sprinters, including the 100-yard champion, are expected, and will be drawn against the leading competitors in the senior events.

It has been a number of years since New England has had such a strong contingent for the national championships, and the athletic committee of the N. E. A. deserves much credit for bringing about this condition.
